SALEM FUND DRIVE

Need For Increased Help
Explained At Rally
Of Chairmen

Campaign chairmen from every city and township in northern Columbiana county, meeting in Salem Monday night to receive instructions and supplies for a campaign next week to raise $8,300 for United China Relief and USO, heard a stirring plea that "We need China and China needs us" and a report on the accomplishments and vastly expanded program of the USO since it was organized a year ago.

The speaker was C. E. Ryan of Akron, regional director for United China Relief and executive director of the USO in Ohio. He revealed that the national goal in the USO drive is $32,000,000 and for China Relief $7,000,000.

The group met for dinner at the Lape hotel at the call of Atty. Ralph Atkinson, chairman of the United Defense Council of Northern Columbiana county, and later met at the office of the secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, to receive campaign supplies.

Starts in Rural Areas Monday

The campaign will be started in the rural areas next Monday and in the towns on Tuesday. Atty. Henry L. Reese is chairman of the USO in Ohio. He revealed that the national goal in the USO drive is $32,000,000 and for China Relief $7,000,000.

In stressing the need for triple the amount raised a year ago when the USO was organized, Ryan declared this organization now has a fine record of achievement in actual operation and that it represents a civilian arm of the American government dedicated to the service of our fighting forces.

"It represents the spirit of America on the home front," he said. "Every time a soldier or sailor is aided by or enjoys the facilities of USO, he is reminded of the determination of the folks back home to give him every support possible. If we were without the religious, social and recreational activities thus offered to those in service we would find the task of sustaining their morale tremendous."

Soupe of Work Grows
The fund raised a year ago was designed to provide for the operation of 339 service clubs and service centers. The USO right now has 585 service units. There are 428 clubs for soldiers and sailors in 306 communities around army camps and naval stations in 43 states and 23 foreign bases. These operations are manned by a staff of 1283 trained men and women assisted by thousands of volunteer workers.

During the past few months additional services were required of USO other than those originally planned. At the request of the War Department teams of trained workers were sent into those areas throughout the country where the army was on maneuvers and where the towns near these sudden large concentrations of soldiers found themselves overwhelmed.

At the request of the war and navy departments, USO organized programs of entertainment in the camps and now have the greatest collection of talent ever assembled.

3,490 Registered
By School Teachers
For Sugar Rations

Total Of 198 Ineligible Because They Have Sugar On Hand; Registration Continues Tomorrow And Thursday

A total of 3,490 persons registered at the Salem elementary schools yesterday—the first day of the consumer sugar registration. Only 3,292 individuals were declared eligible to receive sugar ration books, however. The other 198 persons were refused sugar purchase certificates because they have sufficient sugar on hand.

The initial registration Monday afternoon and evening was of persons whose names began with the letters A through E.

Today the registration will be of persons whose names begin with the letters F through K; on Wednesday, L through R; and on Thursday, S through Z.

The public school teachers, who are serving as registrars, stayed on the job until as late as 11 last night, in some instances, to take care of the applicants who were not supposed to come after 9 o'clock.

The hours of registration today, Wednesday and Thursday are from 3 to 5 p. m. in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 p. m. in the evening.

The first day sugar registration was reported as follows:

Applicants	Ration	B's Is.
Fourth St. school	1101	1038
Columbia St. school	59	566
McKinley school	672	639
Prospect St. school	518	505
Reilly school	608	544

Officials predict that the total city registration of household sugar users will be approximately 13,000.

Tell Spectacular Stories Of Naval Rescue And Heroism At Sea

(By Associated Press)
COCOA, Fla., May 5.—Eighty-eight survivors from two torpedoed freighters—one British and one of the United Nations—have reached safety with spectacular stories of a heroic naval rescue at sea and of a crew that risked death to keep firing upon an axis submarine.

The vessels fell victim to torpedoes off the eastern United States coast early on the morning of Sunday (May 3). Twenty-three men lost their lives in the sinking.

Seventeen of them died when a torpedo struck their lifeboat as it was being lowered. Another of the ship's crew was killed, and 46 survivors were brought to an east coast naval air station.

The other five were killed in the engine room of the medium-sized British freighter, from which 42 survivors were brought to the naval station.

Two navy men, Ensign John F. Gray of Champlain, Ill., and Radioman James Wesley White of Jacksonville, Fla., were heroes in rescuing Thomas Jones, 27-year-old.

EDUCATION BOARD'S MEETING IS BRIEF

Board of education members met Monday night at the High school although there was little business to transact.

Supt. E. Kerr announced that the new "butterfly" steel basketball banking boards prescribed for next year by the Ohio High School Athletic association have been installed in the gymnasium.

A music week program by pupils of the intermediate grades will be presented in the High school auditorium Wednesday night, May 13, Supt. Kerr said. The program was postponed from this week because of the sugar rationing.

His condition is reported serious.

ABOLITION OF
NAZI SYSTEM,
ARMY THREAT

Hitler's Generals Reported To Have Sent Ultimatum To Fuehrer

DISTRUSTFUL OF
"INTUITION" PLAN

Hitler Answers By Putting Von Brauchitsch On High Command

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, May 5.—A group of Adolf Hitler's generals headed by Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch was reported today to have told the Fuehrer bluntly that if his 1942 campaign in Russia fails, they will try to institute for Germany an alternate plan of their own calling for "abolition of the Nazi system."

A responsible source with unusually reliable information about conditions inside Germany said Hitler had accepted this challenge calmly and appointed Von Brauchitsch a member of the supreme command.

"Intuition" Take Over

Hitler relieved Von Brauchitsch as commander in chief last Dec. 21 and announced that he himself, relying on his "intuition," had assumed direct command of his armies.

The source said the incident might be interpreted in two ways: 1. That Hitler was confident of victory but needed the help of his former commander-in-chief and Von Brauchitsch's friends and hoped his appointment would win over critics; or

2. That he was beginning to recognize his weakness and was seeking compromises.

Von Brauchitsch was one of the strongest opponents of Hitler's plan for holding the forward positions in Russia through the winter and counseled a fall back from Moscow long before Hitler agreed.

Von Brauchitsch was said to have the confidence and backing of many important military leaders.

Officers Distrustful

All were reported distrustful of Hitler's "intuition" generalship and his extension of greater powers to the gestapo, with which the army frequently has clashed.

There was no hint in the information reaching London whether

EASTMAN IS GIVEN
POWER OVER RUBBER

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Specific control over all rubber-borne transportation facilities, including passenger automobiles, buses, taxicabs and trucks, was lodged by President Roosevelt today in the Office of Defense Transportation.

Mr. Roosevelt issued an executive order conferring on the office the additional responsibility and Joseph B. Eastman, ODT director, said he understood the primary purpose was to permit his office to determine the policies governing controls over automobiles.

Eastman told reporters, however, he had not seen the completed executive order. But he said he believed that it provided for "closer control over all rubber-borne transportation."

To a question whether that included control over private passenger cars, Eastman replied that this probably would be done through some form of rationing of tires and gasoline.

Will Affect Liquor

COLUMBUS, May 5.—The recent office of Price Administration order restoring retail prices of many articles to March levels to stabilize the price of living will affect Ohio liquor monopoly prices, liquor control department officials said today.

They reported, however, no breakdown of April price changes was available yet and they could not estimate the number of price increases to be put into effect May 11 under the order, although there probably would be many.

RAF Blasts Skoda Arms Works, Foundries City Of Stuttgart

(By Associated Press)
MARSHAL SEMEN TIMOSHENKO'S Red armies were reported hammering at three key German bases in the Ukraine today, attacking in the vicinity of Kursk, Kharkov and Tchernogor, while in the north the defenders of Leningrad strove desperately to break the Nazi siege ring.

Timoshenko's huge-scale assaults on a 300-mile front, ranging from the Sea of Azov half way to Moscow, coincided with a special message he sent yesterday to residents of the German-occupied Ukraine: "The Red army is on its way to liberate you."

R. A. F. Bombs Skoda

British warplanes heavily bombed the great Skoda armament works at Pilsen in Nazi-occupied former Czechoslovakia before dawn today, dropping flares and leaflets over Vichy, capital of unoccupied France, and attacked the big war foundries city of Stuttgart in southwest Germany.

Stuttgart (Pop. 500,000) is the reported headquarters of the Bosch electrical works, the Daimler and Benz airplane engine factories, and other vital military targets.

A German broadcast said that the RAF "attacked" Vichy with incendiary bombs and that French anti-aircraft batteries went into action, but Vichy dispatches said the planes merely dropped propaganda and observation flares.

The raiders also flew over Clermont-Ferrand, 30 miles from Vichy. Other RAF planes, carrying out a widespread series of night attacks, pounded the docks at Nantes, France, and bombed shipping off the coasts of Holland and Norway.

German night raiders struck back with a 30-plane attack on the English south coast, dropping incendiary bombs.

Some Want 'Em With Cuffs,
Others Ask Just Plain Pants

But, At Any Rate, Bootleggers Will Be Fined $10,000 Plus A Year In Prison, Says WPB

NEW YORK, May 5.—Gentlemen, let's retire to the alley to settle this cuff-on-trouser argument. It's got to be settled by midnight Saturday, and we don't want our womenfolk saying "why, those fussy old roosters!"

Here's what the male civilian population is fighting over and for: Men still have until Saturday night to order pants with a graceful cuff attached—from a tailor. After Saturday, cuffs are taboo by War Production Board orders.

A lot of men are hurrying to get in under the deadline. But more males are flocking in to have cuffs removed from last year's models.

The fact is, says the leading merchant tailors, the new style is perfect and within a few months a guy will look slightly out of date with cuffs on his trousers.

But those who want cuffs are adamant. Some of these clients ask for the left-over strip "so ma can sew 'em on."

Most of these complaints have come from men who have been buying cuffless pants from ready-made clothing stores, where the cuff ban became effective last March 30.

The tailors were given until May 30, originally, to stop cuffing pants, but this order has been clarified. No trousers may be cut with cuffs after May 9, and none delivered with cuffs after May 30.

But here's the reason it might be well to settle the whole thing quietly in the alley:

The war production board has announced that bootleggers of cuffs would be liable to a $10,000 fine and a year in prison.

That means, said the WPB, that a man who sews his own pants' cuff back on after May 30 is a bootlegger.

"Cuffless pants are what make dinner suits and formal evening clothes smart—they'll do the same for business suits," said one ready-made clothing operator.

"I tell my customers 'better be without cuffs than without a seat in your pants,'" said a tailor.

PARACHUTE TROOPS

Warships, Plane Squadrons
Assault Naval Base
From Front

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, May 5.—British Commandos, marines and infantry landed on the northern tip of Madagascar today, and a Vichy news agency broadcast that they were attacking the strong French naval base of Diego Suarez from the rear while warships and squadrons of airplanes assaulted the harbor frontally.

British parachute troops also were used in the attack, the Vichy broadcast said.

The troops landed at Courrier bay and started pushing ten miles across the northern isthmus against the base, in an attempt to forestall its seizure by the Japanese.

VICHY, France, May 5.—Chief of Government Laval declared tonight he had received a note from President Roosevelt demanding that France not defend Madagascar against British attack, and that the Vichy government regarded this note as inadmissible.

Nevertheless, France under no circumstances will make the first move toward a rupture with the United States, Laval said.

Addressing a press conference, Laval declared in a husky voice: "The French government leaves to President Roosevelt his part of the responsibility of the eventual consequences of this aggression."

LONDON, May 5.—British troops landed on the northern tip of Madagascar today, quickly captured a French artillery battery and raced toward the naval base of Diego Suarez, forestalling seizure of that vital Indian ocean outpost by the Japanese.

Commandos, marines and regular infantry landed at Courrier bay and under aerial cover started pushing 10 miles across the island's northern isthmus to Diego Suarez, one of the world's finest harbors.

As the occupation force moved in on the Vichy French colony, informed London sources declared there was "a possibility the Japanese may take the boldest course and strike directly at Madagascar."

Japs May Seek Other Bases

In view of the swift British action, however, they thought the Japanese, who are believed to have a powerful battle squadron on the move somewhere in the Indian ocean, would seek first to secure bases on the British islands of Ceylon or Mauritius. The allied naval position in those waters remained obscure.

Informers quarters agreed that the United Nations had "won the first trick" in the Indian ocean by the British landing on Madagascar at dawn, but there was wide speculation on the possibility of Axis attack.

French forces were said to be commanded by a General Guillemet, a former artillery officer, and the impression in London was that their resistance would be brief.

A military commentator, who said the landing occurred about 9 p. m. Monday, Eastern War Time, said the special service troops mentioned in a joint admiralty-war office communique were Commandos specially trained for landing operations.

It was exclusively a British operation and one military commentator emphasized there were neither Free French, American nor South African troops in the landing forces.

PEACE IS ALWAYS POSSIBLE

Peace rumors, against which this country had been warned, are flying. They are accomplishing nothing, however, except to arouse wonderment.

The strategy—if that's what it is—of sending out peace feelers when things are going badly seems muddled to American minds. It sounds more plausible to say that if Hitler and Mussolini were trying to accomplish something by their recent confessions of adversity, they were hoping to throw the opposition off guard by raising its hopes.

Peace is always possible. That is the underlying supposition of belligerency, which otherwise would be the normal order of things and, therefore, of no particular consequence; there would be no alternative. Moreover, the objective of modern warfare is to produce terms of peace that will be acceptable. Wars of wanton destruction are outmoded, because the only purpose of destruction is to exert pressure on the victim's determination to resist.

Obviously, Germany would like nothing better than peace on its own terms. It has nothing to gain now by continuing to fight. Its ultimate exhaustion and defeat are virtually certain. Italy, likewise, must dream of peace before it has lost what little it has retained from its unprofitable alliance with Germany. Even Japan, which has met no reverses yet, has good reason to dream rosy about peace that would place it securely in possession of its conquests.

But these things are as obvious to Americans, for instance, as they are to Germans, Italians and Japanese. Under the circumstances, the suggestion of peace is unattractive. Unless the populations whose governments resorted to war were convinced beyond question of doubt that belligerency was a blunder, peace would be more dangerous than war. Until the Axis has sustained more and more serious reverses than it has sustained so far, peace overtures, if any, must be dismissed as flimsy tricks to throw the opposition off its guard.

MISSING MEN

Navy casualty figures for the first four months of the war revive the layman's interest in that odd category of war casualties—the missing. It includes all men who for one reason or another cannot be accounted for.

Officially, they are neither dead nor alive. They are missing. While the navy explains that it is not including men known to have been taken prisoner in the classification, prisoners usually are lumped with the missing, to make their actual fate even more obscure.

In the World war, according to U. S. war department figures, 4,500 Americans casualties were either prisoners or missing. Russia's total in the same classification reached the incredible figure of 2,500,000. Italy and France each had more than 500,000. Great Britain had 191,000. Rumania, official figures reveal had only three, but Rumania's total casualties were only 12 of 1 percent of its mobilized forces, compared with total casualties of as high as 70 percent for the Russians. For all belligerents in the World war, there were 7,755,000 prisoners and missing out of approximately 65,000,000 persons mobilized for war.

QUESTION TO BE ANSWERED

Among the many questions being raised by spokesmen in Washington, but not answered, is what happens if the government drafts certain male citizen into war factories. Sen. Johnson of Colorado has proposed that family men should be exempt from military service but subject to industrial draft to replace single workers put into uniform.

Specifically, what the prospective industrial draftees want to know is this: Are they going to work for $21 a month at jobs paying closer to $21 a day, to other workers—and if so, is anyone in the government naive enough to think of the possibilities of friction without a shudder of apprehension? Furthermore, are they going to get extra and double time will they have collective bargaining rights; will they be subject to ordinary regulations of working conditions, such as might prevail in closed union shops will they be permitted to work at all in closed union shops?

The Washington gentlemen who talk blandly about the industrial draft must realize by this time that they are raising more questions than they are answering. If they also would take the trouble to realize that the answers must be devised before they can get to first base, they'd quit talking about an industrial draft, until the obtuse angles have been figured out.

AUTOMATIC RESPONSE

In a proclamation early last month setting aside this week as National Employment week, President Roosevelt asked that particular attention be given the employment of older workers.

Response to the presidential plea has been and no doubt will continue to be automatic. The man over 45 is no longer an employment problem, but a blessing. If he has a special skill, he is a double blessing. Most of the worries that hung over his situation during the days when 40 was the age deadline for new industrial employes have been blown away by the war boom. The problem now is not how to adjust him to industry, but how to adjust industry to him.

In a rising market for his skill, he has ceased to be a project in social behavior, which is what he had begun to be a few years ago, and is merely a willing worker with a dinner pail. It recalls the statement that used to spell quick death for a lot of futile discussions about the unemployment problem a few years ago; namely, that the only cure for it was enough jobs to go around.

MAYTIME

A skeptic can't be blamed for wondering in May, 1942, what Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and some handy Japanese could have talked about even if they'd been able to get together. As it was, the Japanese wasn't handy and had to be attending to another engagement. Hitler had just heard about his former international friend, Joseph Stalin, looking forward with confidence and rubbing it in by wondering what had become of the great Nazi spring drive. He also had heard the snarl of a great many bombers in the skies over France and Germany. Perhaps he also had heard his deflated companion in conquest wondering plaintively what they (the Axis) would do next.

It is still possible that within a few days the Axis may begin to whirl again. Until then, a skeptic may suspect that the theme for the latest meeting of the two notorious collaborators was "Oh that we two were Maying."

For Wednesday, May 6

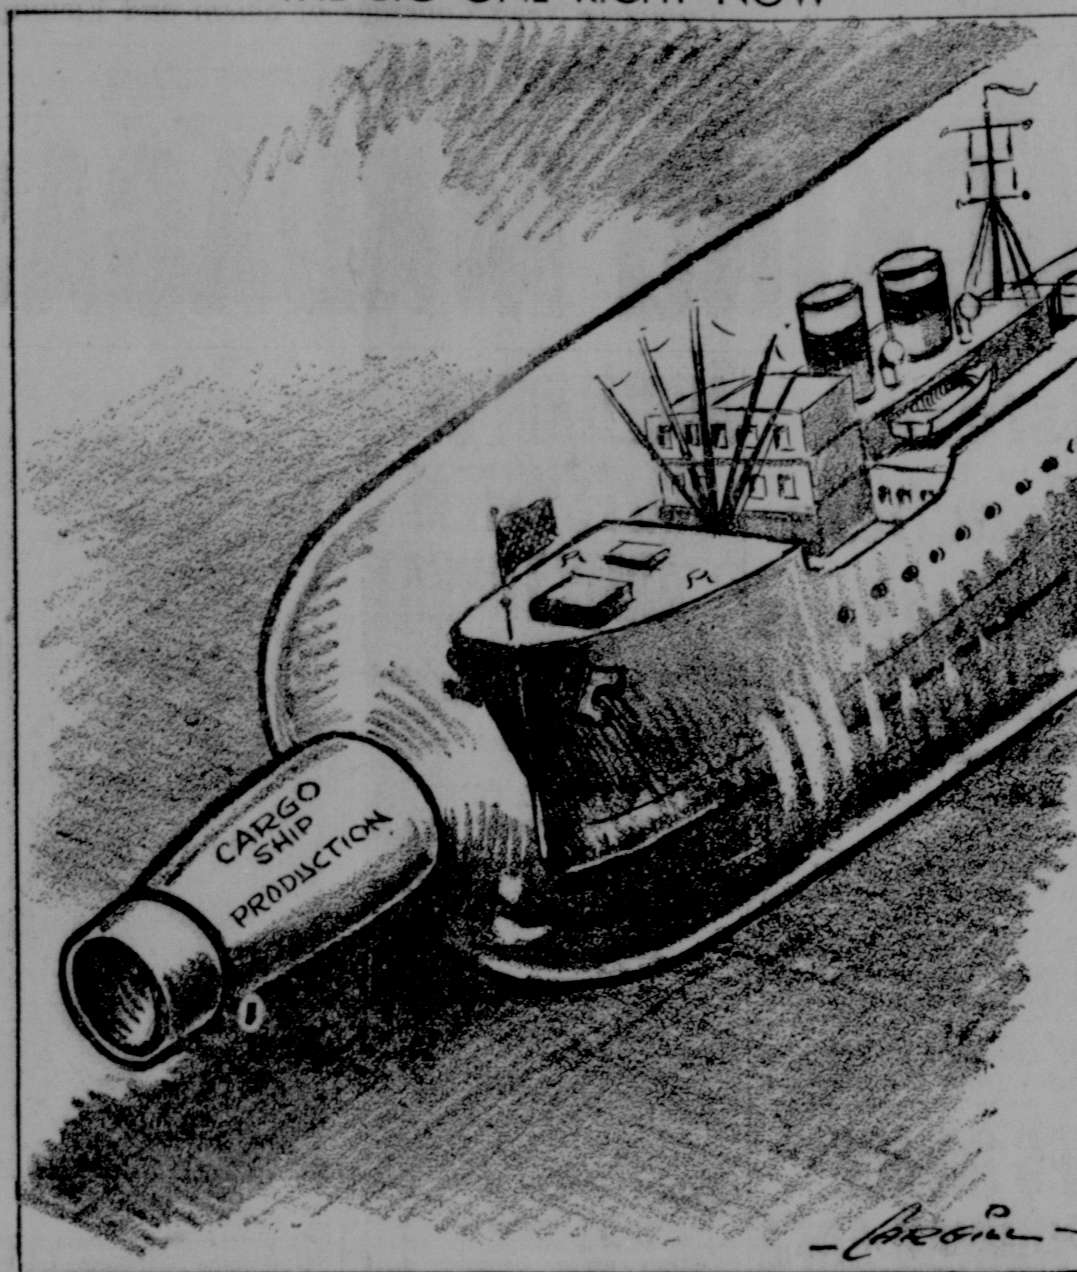

A DAY of dramatic and breathtaking accomplishments and adventures may make this one long to be remembered for its sudden, unpredictable and revolutionary denouements. While this may be spectacular and radical yet there may be solid foundations to put the achievements and good fortune on a sound and enduring basis. A solidifying as well as unforeseen and surprising turn of events may bring cooperation and friendly approval from those in power, in large institutions, political, fraternal or private bodies.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of out-standing adventures and experiences, bringing surprising and dramatic events into the business, social, cultural and romantic life, probably affecting the future to a rather revolutionary extent. However, the sensational and unpredictable should have a firm and enduring basis, with the approval and support of those in influential positions. Seek these but be vigilant to treachery.

A child born on this day should be endowed with exceptional talents and versatility, having sound and practical capabilities as well as scientific, creative and romantic vision.

THE BIG ONE RIGHT NOW

HAIR HAS VARIOUS FUNCTIONS

Clendening Again Refers To "Graying" Statement

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

NOT LONG ago in this column I mentioned that there had been a report of the discovery of a new vitamin which would prevent the graying of hair. I said that I had seen some of the experiments with this vitamin in a biology laboratory.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

on gray rats. I also said, most emphatically, that I did not believe its use in human beings would be attended with success, that I did not believe that it would prevent the graying of hair nor restore gray hair to its original color, and did not advise anybody to experiment with it until further investigation had been made.

Just to show how impressive such statements in the press are, there was not been a day gone by since then, but that someone has written me, asking me where they can obtain the vitamin which I recommended to prevent the graying of hair. This is a little discouraging to a publicist, so I repeat the statement.

Hair Has Purposes

But I am encouraged and very much interested by a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association from Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, one of the most eminent ethnologists in the world. Ethnologists, as you know, have a good deal to do with hair, and therefore Dr. Hrdlicka's discussion comes with authority.

Just what is hair and what are its functions? It will not do to answer this by saying that hair is an appendage of the skin and serves for a protection of the body. It does that, but that is not the whole story. Hair is really a kind of organ serving a number of purposes besides mere passive protection. It increases the sensitivity of the skin. It has esthetic and mating significance and particularly, so far as this discussion is concerned, through its pigment it is an important means of elimination of certain by-products of nutrition.

Contains Melanin

In enlarging a hair one thousand times, it will be seen to contain a good deal of melanin. This is a pigment which is a by-product of nutrition and needs to be removed from the body, and the hair is nearly the only organ for this elimination. "Make a count of the hair that man cuts and loses during his life," says Dr. Hrdlicka, "and the material thus eliminated will assume a respectable proportion." The ordinary graying of hair means not that melanin is changing or losing color, but that less and less of it is formed and hence present. Entirely gray or white hair is that which is quite free from melanin.

Explodes A Myth

It is possible that under starvation and prolonged severe strain production of melanin in the body ceases and therefore the hair turns gray for a while, and as health is restored its natural color returns. The prisoner whose hair turned white in a single night, however, is a myth so far as scientific investigation has shown up to the present time, because the melanin is dead and cannot possibly be decolorized by any mental effect. It is possible that sudden graying may occur from the formation of bubbles of gas in the medulla of the hair.

Viewed in this scientific manner, it is difficult to see how any vitamin can possibly affect gray hair. Early in the process of graying a vitamin might possibly fix melanin in the body for a short time, but this process would steadily grow more difficult with time until it became impossible.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

The ambulance attendant shrug-ged. Brinda bent until her face was almost against that of the injured man. His voice came in rises, between teeth clenched against suffering.

"Take my hand—the right hand that's it—don't let me go!"
Brinda's fingers closed on a cool, flat metallic object, like a cigarette case.

"I will, Dick... I will!"
Fine! I got smashed up getting out, you know—"he paused for labored breath—"Be careful,
the men will be after it, too—
you'll fool 'em, won't you?"
The ambulance officer was becoming impatient. "Hurry, Miss.
We're killing him with kindness."
But Dick's voice still detained Brinda. "Wonder if—perhaps—you—didn't— kiss me."

"Thanks," he said. "Thanks a lot!"

He was smiling as they lifted the retcher into the ambulance.
Brinda turned away dazedly. Her mind still tightly clutched the flat metal object. What could it be?
Nothing most important, or Dick could not have risked his life to get it from the wrecked laboratory.

Realizing that it was only a concealed, she lifted her hand to her throat and let the object ride into the top of her dress. She glanced at its cold touch upper skin. But she knew it was safely hidden now.

An instant later she had reason to be glad of her precaution.
Beyond the broad shoulders of the constable, she saw the rubicund face of Lord Mountwyn.

"Miss Duncan?" he exclaimed, as though seeing her at the same moment. "My dear young lady!"
Striding forward, he seized her arms in greeting. Not one hand, at both.

Even as Lord Mountwyn pumped her hands, Brinda scanned his face for any sign of guile. But there was none.

"This is terrible, my dear!" he said. "I was telling late at the Admiralty when we received word, of Sir John, of course?"
It had not occurred to Brinda because that her guardian might be resentful.

"Sir John? Why, no. You see,
there was an air raid, and we were topped." She went on to explain the circumstances of her meeting with Dick.

"I see, I see," Mountwyn's blue, round eyes, bright as a robin's, gave no hint as to whether he believed her or not. "Well, it's most unfortunate. You—er—didn't have a chance to speak to Malden before they took him to the hospital?"
"Only a word or two," she said.
"The ambulance men were in such a hurry."

"Poor devil! This will break Gladys up no end."
Mountwyn glanced at his watch.
"Have to look into this affair now.
If you don't mind waiting, I'll give you a lift home. A little later for you to be hunting a cab. We can stop at the hospital and find out about Richard."

"That decided Brinda.
"Thanks," she said, with a smile.
"I'll wait."

Lord Mountwyn spoke to the constable, who seemed to know him,
and bustled off.

Brinda strove to be calm but her thoughts were in turmoil. The metal case no longer felt cool against her body; it burned. Lucky she had hidden it before Lord Mountwyn seized her hands so eagerly! Chance only? Or had he seen Dick give it to her? Yet why should she be so dubious of Mountwyn? For he must be completely in Dick's confidence.
Perhaps she should give him the metal case, together with whatever mystery it contained. No.... "Keep it for me!" Dick had said.

But what of Dick? For all she knew, he might be dying now. She waited impatiently for Mountwyn to return. And, although it was actually a matter of minutes, it seemed hours before she again saw the pink cheeks and round blue eyes of Gladys's father, as he threatened his way back toward her through the gathering crowd.

His car was parked up the street.
When they were safely in it, he offered her a cigarette, and said:
"Worse than I thought. An infernal machine.... a time bomb, probably. Place completely wrecked. All Malden's work gone for nothing!
You know about it, don't you?"
Over a lighted match, he glanced at her shrewdly.

"Only that he's been making some sort of experiments."
Mountwyn looked relieved.

"Right. Experiments. You couldn't call them more. I've been backing him up.... thought they might come to something. It's a bad blow for him, though—cough to give him crazy. I can't imagine any sane man going back into those ruins."

A constable, recognizing the Admiralty license on the car, saluted.
Mountwyn waved back.

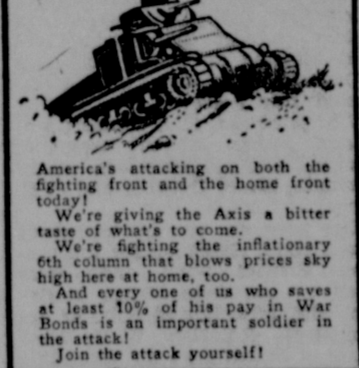

Brinda asked the only question

Blimp Sea Patrol in Dramatic Rescue at Sea

A lifeboat containing eight persons including a woman and child, was first sighted by U. S. Army planes which in turn notified the Navy Blimp Patrol. Left, photo from blimp shows lifeboat crew lowering sail used as a signal of distress. Right, Coast Guard cutter is completing the rescue of the eight Axis sea victims. This is the first time that the Blimp Patrol has acted in this capacity.

ATTACK! ATTACK! ATTACK!

America's attacking on both the fighting front and the home front today!

We're giving the Axis a bitter taste of what's to come.

We're fighting the inflationary
th. column that blows prices sky
high here at home, too.

And every one of us who saves
at least 10% of his pay in War Bonds is an important soldier in the attack!

Join the attack yourself!

Then there leaped at her the bold words: Z-Ray — Formula 13 — Re-Wires and Television.

She thrilled at the thought of all it implied. His most priceless secret—and he had placed it in her care. England's secret, too—perhaps the weapon that would defeat her enemies. Would even the secret drawer of the cabinet be safe enough for such a treasure?

As she hesitated, she became conscious of a scratching at the door. Swiftly she snapped the case shut and closed the secret drawer on it.

None too soon. As she rose to her feet she saw the room door begin to open.... slowly.

Jap Suicide Plane Did This

Pilots are shown looking over a Douglas dive bomber which had its tail sheared off when a Jap bomber crashed on the deck of an aircraft carrier. The damaged Nipponese plane unsuccessfully attempted to crash amid the planes that were lined up along the flight deck of the carrier which took part in the U. S. Navy raids on the Jap occupied Gilbert and Marshall Islands.

able-bodied seaman of Birkenhead, England.

Jones suffered a broken leg when the United Nations ship was sunk and for three hours clung to a piece of wreckage, where he was sighted from a plane by the two navy men.

Gray landed the small plane on the water, strewn with wreckage, and White swam to the injured man, lifted him onto a raft, and fashioned for him a crude splint made from a floating board and canvas from the raft.

Then the seaman was hoisted into the plane, and Radioman White remained on the raft while Jones was rushed to land for medical treatment. White later was picked up by another plane.

For most of the United Nations ship's crew, it was the second torpedoing in three weeks. They were aboard a British ship sunk earlier, but volunteered for service after having been landed at an east coast port.

STATE LIBRARIAN PAUL NOON RESIGNS

COLUMBUS, May 5.—Paul A. T. Noon has resigned his $5,000-a-year post as state librarian, effective June 1, a Bricker administration spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said Noon, an appointee of the state library board during the Democratic administration of former Gov. George White, submitted his resignation "some time ago" to Kenneth C. Ray, state education director and ex-officio member of the board.

Noon declined to discuss the report and referred questioners to Ray. The education director could not be reached immediately. Attached in his office said Walter L. Collins, former Wilmington college president and now the education department's director of instruction, might be named temporary state librarian.

CRUCIBLES OF WAR SEIZE IRON, STEEL

U. S. Bans All Private Use Of These Metals Within Ninety Days

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 5—The iron and steel that go into the product of peaceful and pleasant living today were ordered poured into the crucibles of war.

General conservation order M-125, the most sweeping yet issued by the war production board, directs thousands of manufacturing plants to stop within 90 days all use of the metals needed for war.

The order was regarded as a knockout blow to the durable goods industry. Any plant that can not shift to the manufacture of war materials must shut down for the duration. There were some exceptions, such as the making of certain articles needed for repair or maintenance work, hospital equipment, etc., but the over-all effect was to ban the manufacture of such common products as bath tubs, cash registers, cigarette lighters, mail boxes, fountain pens, pie plates, waste baskets, tea pots, swivel chairs, slide fasteners, voting machines, and all novelties and souvenirs and Christmas tree ornaments.

When present stocks are exhausted the handymen around the house will have to fashion his own fixtures—saws, hammers and screw drivers were excepted from the list. The decree was the avalanche that followed preliminary orders against the manufacture of automobiles, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, typewriters and other selected articles.

Limited production will be permitted for 90 days, but after that no metal may be used "except gold or silver."

LIMIT OF 40 MILES MAY NOT BE LEGAL

COLUMBUS, May 5—Legal barriers probably will prevent establishment of a 40-mile-an-hour speed limit on Ohio highways to conserve tires, Gov. John W. Bricker indicated today.
The governor said he "doubts very much" whether the state highway director has authority to reduce the legal speed limit of 50 miles-an-hour without conducting exhaustive investigations of conditions affecting each separate highway or portion of them.

Executive office spokesmen said Bricker would hold further consultations with Highway Director Hal G. Sours on the proposition before reaching any definite conclusion. Unless the traffic code is amended, the state apparently will rely on voluntary adherence to a 40 mile speed limit by motorists, spokesmen ventured.

Later this week the governor will confer with state department heads on a plan to establish a staggered time schedule for 7,500 state employees in Columbus to report for work to avoid rush periods on street cars and buses.

ALLEN IS HONORED FOR WAR REPORTS

Blow-by-Blow Action Tales From Near East Win Pulitzer Prize

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 5—Larry Allen's blow-by-blow action stories of Mediterranean warfare have won for the 33-year-old Associated Press foreign correspondent the coveted $500 Pulitzer journalism award for a distinguished example of telegraphic reporting of international affairs published in daily newspapers in the United States.

In contrast to Allen's action stories of planes and guns and ships was Ellen Glasgow's novel of family life in a sleepy Virginia town—"In This Our Life"—which won for the Richmond novelist the $500 Pulitzer award for an outstanding novel.

No Play Award

Pulitzer awards in other fields of journalism and letters as announced by the trustees of Columbia university on recommendation of the graduate school of journalism omitted the prize for the best original American play, as did the New York Drama Critics Circle, which three weeks ago decided there was no occasion for its annual award for a play.

Other 1941 Pulitzer awards: A $500 gold medal to the Los Angeles (Calif.) Times for the most disinterested and peritorious public service by a newspaper. This was awarded for the newspaper's campaign which resulted in clarification and confirmation of "the Right of Free Press."

Back again to another war—the Civil war—went the award committee in selection for the $500 prize historical work Margaret Leech's "Reveille in Washington," which described life in the nation's capital in the period 1861-1865.

Louis Stark of the New York Times won the $500 prize for a distinguished example of national affairs reporting, based on his labor stories, and Dr. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines Herald took a similar award for distinguished correspondence.

For a distinguished example of a reporter's work based on accuracy and terseness in a local or regional field, Stanton De Laplane of the San Francisco Chronicle won a $500 prize citing his articles on the movement of several California and Oregon counties to secede and form a 49th state.

"Too Patriotic"
LONDON, May 5. — A Berlin broadcast said today the execution of 72 persons announced yesterday was due to their "mistaken sense of patriotism."

The broadcast said the German-controlled Dutch press, commenting upon the execution of the 72 Netherlands, on charges of trying to make contact with Germany, enemies, asserted Germany could not allow "peace and order to be disturbed in the occupied territories."

The Nazi-controlled Netherlands radio said most of those executed were Dutch army officers.

PROBLEM OF VICHY ISLAND IS ENDED

But New Questions Concerning U. S. And French Are Brought Up

the problem of French-American relations rests.
At the same time, it was reported here—perhaps prematurely—that Adrien Tixier, De Gaulle's personal representative in America, had submitted to the state department the Free French proposals for diplomatic recognition by the United States.

What actually happened, these well-informed sources say is that feelers have been put out by the Free French to find out what Washington's requirements for such recognition might be, with all diplomatic decisions on either Vichy or De Gaulle France reserved for the future.

Sea Lanes Protected
Madagascar for the United Nations means first of all—as both London and Washington announcements state—protection of the vital sea routes to India and Australia. Dispatches recently told of "serious disorders" on the island, presumably from dissension over the return of Laval to power in France with consequent strengthening of the policy of collaboration with Germany.

The presence on the island of Japanese military missions has never been confirmed. The British radio several weeks ago broadcast the statement that Japanese missions had been there "for six weeks" mapping plans for Madagascar's acquisition for the Axis.

In any event, Madagascar is apparently now safe for the Allies, the shipping lanes are protected from enemy land bases, and the French empire diplomatic problem is narrowed down to Dakar and Martinique, until the time comes for creation of the "second front" in France itself.

7 Softball Teams Enter Class A Loop; Play Begins Monday

REDS DEFEAT NEW YORK WITH SPREE IN FOURTH FRAME

Ray Starr Wins Second Game As Teammates Tally 12 Runs

By JUDSON BAILEY
Big innings are one of the commonest occurrences in baseball and a well known "sucker bet" is that the winning team in any game will score more runs in one frame than the losing team will in the entire game.

However, not many innings will compare with the frantic fourth at Cincinnati yesterday when the Reds tallied 12 times against the New York Giants to come within two runs of the modern major league record.

Up till this explosion the Billy Reds had not made a hit off Phil McGee and were trailing 1-0 because a homer by Willard Marshall in the second inning. They made only six hits in the big blow-up, too, but they scored nine runs before the Giants got a man out, everybody in the batting order came to the plate twice and they still had the bases loaded at the finish.

Everything happened, including a triple by Eddie Joost with the bases jammed, the three vital errors and four walks. Three runs were forced in by passes and another by a hit batsman.

After McGee and Hugh East were unable to retire any of the Reds, Harry Feldman was sent to the scene and even though he proved little if any better than his predecessors, Manager Mel Ott recognized the futility of the situation and left him on the mound until the end.

This came eventually in the form of a 154-pare and 35-year-old rookie Ray Starr's second victory. He allowed eight hits.

Pirates Win
In the only other National league game the Pittsburgh Pirates pulled within a half game of the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers by routing out the Boston Braves, 2-1, in a pitching duel between Bob Klinger and Jim Tobin, each of whom permitted six hits.

Cleveland's lead in the American league was shortened to one game as the Boston Red Sox took their second straight decision from the Indians, 11-8.

The New York Yankees crushed the Chicago White Sox again, 6-1, bashing five runs in a big third inning and keeping the Chicks shut out till the ninth when an error by Phil Rizzuto after two were out opened up a scoring chance.

The Detroit Tigers maintained their hold on second place by whipping the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-4, with a 12-hit attack.

The St. Louis at Washington game was postponed.

Anglers Reminded That Bass Season Is Closed

The open season on black bass in the inland fishing district of Ohio closed May 1 and will remain closed until June 15, the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources reminded anglers today. The ban applies to large mouth, smallmouth and spotted bass.

The closed season is enforced to permit bass opportunity to spawn. The open season on black bass in the Lake Erie fishing district will close on May 25 to remain closed until July 1. The ban on black bass does not apply to white and rock bass which are different species.

Fish management men report bass in streams are nesting and water and weather conditions indicate an excellent bass hatch this year.

Pimlico, Scene of Rich Preakness Race This Week

Second of the big races for three-year-old horses comes this week, Saturday, May 9, with the 52nd running of the Preakness Stakes at Pimlico race track, Baltimore, Md. A field of 10 horses is sighted for the rich race, headed by the Derby winner, Shut Out; Alsab, who finished second in the big classic; Colchis, who did not run in the Derby, and Sun Again, another who did not run in the Derby. The picture above was taken during the running of the 1941 Preakness, with Whirlaway, the winner, far behind the pack as the horses made the first turn.

The Altohouse keggers, present leaders in the Quaker City league, increased their lead by one more game last night when they shut out the Golden Eagle as the Arcos dropped one game of their match to Hawks on the Grate alleys. Jim Armstrong's 216 paced the Altohouse team while Walt Hiltbrand and Hippley racked up a 217 and 213 for the Arcas when they totaled 952 their first game.

Capels scored a three-game win over the Quaker Orphans to slash the gap between them and the third place Golden Eagles to two games. In other matches the Bliss shut out the Masons, the Lape Hotel won a pair from Coys and Gondas took three from the Mullins. George Bailie paced the Lape Hotel five with games of 200 and 207.

Last night's bowling wound up the Quaker City league season and the top honors went to the winning Altohouse team with the Arcos taking the runnerup spot. The Golden Eagle, Capels and Gondas (tie), Coys, Lape Hotel, Masons, Bliss, Mullins Cutters, Quaker Orphans and Hawks finished in that order.

INDIANS ALL OUT IN WAR EFFORTS

CLEVELAND, May 5.—The Cleveland Indians today pulled a "squeeze play" on non-paying customers—to help Uncle Sam foot his war bills.

The club announced that all pass holders henceforth would be required to buy a 25-cent war stamp for admission to all home games.

BAKER, Ore. — Attempting to solve the farm labor shortage locally, Baker schools have inaugurated special Saturday classes for city boys to learn the fine arts of harnessing horses, operation of hay harvesting equipment and general farm fundamentals.

FIELDHOUSE LEADS MULLINS KEGLERS

Sixteen teams in the Mullins league have completed the season, the Finish Dept. winning the league championship with a two-game lead over the Press. Tied for third place, four games behind the leaders, were the Inspection and Cost teams.

The second-place Press team had high team average of 823, Finish team had 812 and Inspection 805.

Clyde White of the Cost five had high of 664 for three games, Ralph Knepper of Production had 652 and Bill Fieldhouse of Press 641. S. Garlock of the Press had high single game of 245, Clyde White had 243 and Ralph Knepper 238.

Inspection had team high of 2761 for three games, Press 2751 and Finish 2642. For single game Press posted a 1001 game, Inspection 1000 and Production 933.

A total of 163 employees participated in this league, 56 of whom saw action in 60 or more of the 90 games.

High averages among these 56 were: W. Fieldhouse 181.5, C. Huffer 176, C. DeCrow 173.8, J. Galchick 173.1, A. Shepard 172.6, J. McFeely 170, R. Knepper 169, L. Berger 168.3, J. Craig 168.2, J. Copacis 166.9, R. Lopeman 165.5, G. DeCrow 165.9, J. Youtz 165.8, W. Crookston 164, C. White 162.4, J. Martin 162.3, Pat Boien 161.8, P. Myers 160.7, A. Arnold 160.3.

Leaders among the 107 who bowled less than 60 games were: B. Shepard 177, L. DeCrow 172.5, J. Yuhaz 171.9, C. Shepard 171.3, R. Tubbs 171.1, H. DeRienzo 169, C. Herron 168, J. Brantsch 167.7, W. Finley 167.1, R. Limestone 160.6.

COUNTY ANGLER SNARES WHOPPER

Here is another record Ohio bass. Happening so early in the season, here's on that the boys can try all summer to beat.

Park Holloway of Columbiana took it at Gulfport lake. He states that at the close of a rather uneventful day of trying for bluegill and crappie, he placed a large gob of bait on his shill No. 7 hook, threw the line as far as he could and almost immediately had a strike that nearly pulled him into the lake. After 15 minutes of skillful angling he landed the whopper. It was over 19 inches long and weighed six pounds, 12 ounces. Holloway is mighty proud of his catch and intends to enter it in the current contests.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Baseball received its "green light"; similar go-ahead signals have been given to other sports—such as yachting, for instance—And now Jack Joyner, the University of Tennessee sports publicist suggests that intercollegiate sports should be granted some sign of official approval. . . . That might help the gate receipts a bit, but from here it hardly seems necessary. The army and navy have given college athletes their okay by grabbing up so many of them for such jobs as flying fighter planes.

Today's Guest Star
Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "Wonder if Wayne Wright, after Saturday's ride on Shut Out, would rather be Wright than president?"

Churchill Downs Cleanup
Ben Jones, the same guy who put Eddie Arcaro up on the Derby winners, took him off the third. When Eddie couldn't decide between Shut Out and Devil Diver, he sought Ben's advice and Jones told him that Devil Diver was considered the better horse. And Bill Whitely, the Greentree stable agent, has served in that capacity for the winners of three of the last four derbies.

The army will take over the Detroit fair grounds May 15, but there'll be racing as usual for the 1942 season. Pittsburgh baseball writers have passed a rule that everyone in the press box must buy a defense stamp each day.

TRIBE OUTHITS RED SOX BUT LOSES, 11-8

BOSTON, May 5.—It took the Red Sox to emphasize something the Cleveland Indians have been hoping wasn't true—that Al Milnar's pitching effectiveness is below par. The Bostonians gave the Tribe its second defeat in a row yesterday, 11 to 8, although Cleveland had more hits, 15 to 11, made fewer errors, two against three, and accounted for all three homers—Jeff Heath's fourth, and the first of the season by Ray Mack and Otto Denning. But Milner let the Sox get a flying start, and they kept in front.

Ever since spring practice began, Milnar's fast ball has been anything but that. In his first start of the season, the Tigers shelled him for 8 hits in 5 1-3 innings.

In his second try, Al won from the St. Louis Browns. Against the White Sox he lasted 5 1-3 innings, after which the Indians rallied to win. Against Philadelphia Milnar was good for 3 1-3 innings.

Against Boston yesterday, Al was wild and ineffective, with the result that the Cleveland club's first-place lead over Detroit dropped to one game. In the three innings he lasted he allowed only one hit per inning, but the opposition scored twice in the first and four times in the third by cashing in on five bases on balls and a hit batsman.

It was in the seventh, however, that Boston put the liner on the game by scoring three runs on Jim Tabor's single, Pete Fox's triple, and singles by Bobby Doerr and Dom DiMaggio, off Steve Gromek. Offensively, the Indians kept up their recent pace. Heath's homer came in the fourth, Mack's in the sixth and Denning's in the eighth. Each was the bases empty. Four runs on five hits, with a pair of errors mixed in, made the eighth Cleveland's best inning.

Vernon Kennedy, who in two starts has won from the Browns and the Athletics, drew the Indians' pitching assignment today.

Salem Lad Signs Contract With Red Sox Farm Team

Ernest "Ernie" Hrovatic, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hrovatic of R. D. 3, has signed a contract to play right field for a Boston Red Sox farm at Owensboro, Ky., it was learned by his parents.

Hrovatic, a graduate of Salem High school, has been trying to make the grade for four seasons and has finally succeeded. A bad knee bothered him for two years while last season his back was injured. This season his luck has run in the right vein and as a result his natural ability has been shown.

He spent two weeks with the Red Sox "farm team" at Owensboro before he was signed up. Hrovatic is well remembered by the fans of this district for his play with the Lake Placencia outfit a few years ago.

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL ON APPROVED LIST

Salem High school has again been placed on the list of secondary schools approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Principal Benjamin Ludwig announced today, following action taken by the organization at its 47th annual meeting in Chicago.

The association, which involves 20 northern states, is one which sets up high standards of attainment to be met by the ranking colleges and High schools.

MULLINS, CHINAS UNHEARD FROM AS MANAGERS MEET

Teams Fill Rosters With Youths To Replace Lost Stars

Seven teams were represented by their managers at the Class A managers meeting held at the Memorial building last night. Several points were decided upon by the league managers, including the player limit, the starting time of the first game of the evening and other minor points.

Those teams represented at last night's parley were the Carroll Club, United Cigars, the Electric Furnace, the Recreation, the Phalanx, the Salem News and the Saxons. Among those unheard from were Mullins and the Salem China. It is hoped that one of these two or some other outfit will enter in the near future so that the schedule for opening games next Monday evening can be arranged. The managers decided that the opening game each evening would begin at 5:45.

They also ruled that each team could have only 16 players on its roster. A player cannot run on a dropped third strike, but is out, it was ruled. This rule has caused several mix-ups in the past few seasons and getting rid of it will not hurt the league in the least, the officials feel.

This year's entries will include some of the youngest players in the city on their rosters since the army and defense work has taken many of the city's softball stars. Two new teams are entered this season, the United Cigars and the Phalanx. Both teams will be made up of young players, most of them fresh out of high school, but they can play real softball and may go far in the league. The rest of the teams will also sport young blood and all in all, the season promises to be one of Salem's best in recent years.

Joe Kelley, city recreational director, has announced that tonight the Class B managers will meet at the Memorial building at 7:30. He is expecting a bigger entry list in this league this season than in several previous years. Both leagues will begin next Monday evening in the entries are in in time to permit the drawing up of the first round schedules. If the entry list comes up to expectations, Salem's softball fans should get set to enjoy one of the sport's biggest years.

ARMY THREATENS TO SQUASH NAZIS

The Von Brauchitsch clique threatened Hitler with displacement or promised him some kind of chancellorship in the new order they would institute if his plans failed, the source said.

The informant added he believed the dissident generals might want to turn the campaign elsewhere, rather than to Russia, and to halt offensive warfare and seek to hold Germany's gains by defensive fighting. The clique might even strive—by the removal of Hitlerism—to gain a negotiated peace favorable to Germany, the source said.

The informant said there had been hints of some kind of German political friction involving Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

U. S. Navy Guards a Big Atlantic Convoy

Looking down from above on this gun emplacement (top left) aboard a warship of a U. S. task force on convoy duty in the Atlantic, you might think the boys were having their afternoon nap. These men are so well trained that a single order would have them blazing in short order. Bottom, some of the ships in the convoy on the broad Atlantic. Photo was made from one of the warships. Right, a warship's searchlight blinks out a message to other ships of the Atlantic task force in a dense fog while escorting the convoy.

USO WORKERS OPEN DRIVE NEXT WEEK

$6,300 Will Be Sought For Both USO And United China Relief

Everywhere these shows have been received with great enthusiasm.

Troops in transit and on leave are being provided information and a hospitable place to wait or rest at transfer points. Lounges for troops have been opened in scores of railroad stations and bus terminals.

Joining with the American Library association and the Red Cross, the USO has been helping to organize and underwrite the collection of millions of books for the use of soldiers and sailors.

Mobile units of specially equipped trucks with trained USO workers are taking books, refreshments and motion pictures to men on special guard duty at out-of-the-way points, such as bridges, vital roads and war production plants.

Meet Special Requests

USO also has met numerous special requests made by camp commanders, chaplains and recreational officers for special equipment, furnishings and services.

Turning to the appeal for United China Relief, Ryan declared the funds sought will go to aid two million orphaned children and 50 million refugees in China and to buy medical supplies for those people.

China is important to us, he pointed out, as the last fighting base against the Japanese. For four and a half years the Chinese have been waging this battle against great odds and millions of civilians and soldiers have perished. Yet China fights on, refusing to heed the Japanese propaganda that the United States is merely exploiting them.

Back in 1918 China was asked for $100,000 for the U. S. war work fund. China gave instead $1,425,000—fourteen times her quota. Again in 1937, after the Ohio and Mississippi floods, the Chinese people entirely of their own accord raised more money for the relief of our flood victims than any other country except Canada.

"These are but two of a multitude of similar examples of her friendship," the speaker concluded.

Two Special Days

COLUMBUS, May 5.—Gov. John W. Bricker has issued proclamations designating May 10 as Mother's day and May 9 as "school safety patrol day."

BRITISH PUSHING MADAGASCAR GAIN

Commandos Seize French Battery, Head For Naval Base

The bold attack signalled the end of Allied attempts to win Vichy from German influence.

Allies' Position Improved The United Nations' position in the Indian ocean was viewed as "greatly improved" by the landing, particularly if Axis reports that the powerful new United States battle-ships Washington and North Carolina are operating in those waters prove true, they declared.

A foreign office commentator declined to speculate on the future administration of Madagascar, explaining that the undertaking "still is very much in the operational stage."

With the lessons of French Indo-China (where the Japanese gained bases and concessions by treaty) and Syria (which the Vichy French defended against British-Free French forces) still fresh in mind, the commentator said it "would be the height of folly to suppose that the Vichy government would lift a finger to resist the Japanese threat to Madagascar."

Officially, the occupation of Madagascar was called an action to "forestall a Japanese move against the Diego Suarez base."

Japanese occupation of the French island would have had the "gravest strategic consequences on vital sea communications," one British authority asserted.

Axis Threat Greater

"Since the accession to power of Pierre Laval, the Axis threat to Madagascar had become greater than ever," he continued, "and the seriousness of that threat had been underlined during the past two or three days by the fact that Japanese Admirals Nomura and Abe are apparently in Vichy where they are being handsomely entertained by the Vichy government."

A Reuters dispatch said the admirals, Japanese coordinators of strategy with Germany and Italy, had left by air for Berlin today. They had been expected to remain, according to Vichy advices yesterday.

The British commentator said their presence in Vichy had been taken here as a sign that "yet further concessions by the Vichy government to the Axis and, in particular, to 'Japan' were imminent."

PHILIPPINE MAIL FROM ARMY HELD UP

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The war department disclosed today no mail had been delivered to American forces in the Philippines since Dec. 8, and virtually none had been received from the islands.

The army postal service has received scores of letters from parents of soldiers complaining that mail for their sons has been returned to them and they have not received word from the soldiers since December, the department said.

It was explained that because of the Japanese blockade, mail for soldiers in the Philippines was accumulated at ports of embarkation in the hope that sooner or later it would be possible to resume the postal service, but with the fall of Bataan it became evident that no deliveries could be made in the near future and the army decided to return the letters to the senders.

Saves Dog In Well

CANTON, May 3.—Charles Simpkins, 19, joined the talents of fisherman and cowboy to rescue a puppy from an abandoned well beneath a neighbor's house.

With only two feet of clearance making it impossible to lower a ladder into the well, Simpkins crawled to the edge of the opening and for more than an hour tried to lasso the dog. He finally succeeded.

Huge Brick Order Filed

ALLIANCE, May 5.—The Alliance Clay Products Co., has started production on the largest order in its history, which calls for 13,100,000 bricks for the Dow Magnesium Co., now building two war production factories in Michigan.

CAPARELLI FINED IN JUSTICE COURT

LISBON, May 5.—Patsy Caparelli of East Palestine was fined $200 and costs and given a 90-day suspended jail sentence when he entered a plea of guilty to exhibiting a gambling device before Justice of the Peace Richard Firestone here Monday afternoon.

In addition, the county will confiscate the four slot machines and contents taken from Caparelli's place one week ago by Deputy Sheriff H. J. Clark, who assisted state liquor enforcement agents in a raid. The money in the machines will be turned into the county general fund and the machines wrecked. Prosecutor Frank W. Springer stated.

Caparelli last week was fined $1,000 and costs, with a jail sentence and all but $275 of the fine suspended during good behavior, when arraigned in East Liverpool municipal court on a charge of selling untaxed liquor without a license.

JAPANESE INVADE YUNNAN PROVINCE

Nipponese Have Driven 500 Miles In Little Less Than Two Months

by United States Lieut. General Joseph W. Stilwell.

The army spokesman described the Japanese force as "small." The vanguard, however, appeared to pose a distant threat to the Chinese capital of Chungking, some 670 miles away across high mountains and deep gorges.

Try To Cut Arries

The Japanese appeared intent upon severing communications between the Chinese of the left flank and the British of the right—at the wild mountain approaches to India, the spokesman said. The enemy was expected to concentrate his main effort toward capturing the strategic north Burma town of Bhamo, some 176 miles north of devastated Mandalay, to seal off an alternate terminus of the Burma road, the spokesman added.

The spokesman said there would be no Chinese withdrawal from Burma until the war in wou.

HITLER ISN'T ONLY ENEMY, SAYS EVATT

LONDON, May 5.—Herbert V. Evatt, Australian attorney general and minister for external affairs, criticized today what he called a catch-cry widely employed by some people—that "we must conquer Hitler first."

"Those who employ it," he said in an interview, "seem incapable of understanding this is a world war."

He said his mission here was related to his "not letting anybody forget the Pacific war is not a side-show."

He lashed out against what he called "the complacent assumption" that it was unlikely Japan would strike simultaneously against Australia and India.

The Japanese, he asserted, have "the means at hand to strike hard in both directions," adding that there still is "suicidal heresy" in some quarters that persists in underestimating Japanese strength.

Nazis Claim Offensive On the Russian war front, Hitler's field headquarters asserted the Nazis had beaten off attacks "strong enemy forces" and declared that "several offensive operations by German troops for the improvement of their own positions were carried out."

With signs of Hitler's long-awaired grand offensive still missing, German newspapers took a grim tone and exhorted German workers to speed up production "a last gigantic struggle."

A bulletin from Red army headquarters said Russian troops "were offensive battles on several sectors of the front and improved their positions," and dispatches implied that the Soviet armies had set the initiative to break the mulling stalemate.

Defenders of long-besieged Leningrad were pictured as striking sagely at the Germans, a communiqué reporting that yesterday assaults left "eleven hundred dead on the field of battle."
